"Based on the upcoming game of the same name, and part of a successful Kickstarter project, LyraVR has the potential to be something special. Rather than just being a DJ with a MIDI controller, you are a director working in VR, taking control of the narrative and motion of your audience. The rise of VR in the industry has yet to see a major jump in VR-related media, as most players still hold VR primarily for the new and future applications. Since the day I first tried a VR headset, I have been dreaming of the possibilities that VR can offer to the gaming industry." While the section above covers other features that make VR a truly interesting new musical platform, what I find of most interest here is the way this piece also features a new direction for the company's work as a whole: "At different times throughout its history, Lyra has had a close connection to Rancid Road Studios and to the recording industry as a whole. In recent years, this has led to a series of successful partnerships with producers and DAWs. This was the case with the release of the Lynx Module, the first time Lyra had the opportunity to have a "single-handedly control multiple VSTs at the same time, using the [Lynx] device as a powerful effect plug-in. It was a fantastic result, and something that is looking to be built upon further in the future." I, for one, can't wait to hear what will come from Rancid Road Studios in the future, as they're the most exciting VR company out there as of right now. Rancid Road Studios is a UK-based VR development house that's being led by renowned musician Simon Posford, who's worked with names such as The Cure, The Verve, The Who, Jane's Addiction, Godflesh, The Alarm and many more. The one that stands out though is him producing the Voodoo Child: Reanimator album with Jimi Hendrix's son, Jimmy Hendrix, and I can't wait to see what's next for this new musical partnership. I'm as excited about VR's new direction as you can be, and I'm so excited about it I could (wait... why was that starting to sound like a creepy, cock-hungry guy talking about an imaginary girlfriend

Play GoBang and Tetris! ①Play GoBang! GoBang is a game combining Tetris and Bang! There are a field of play in which pieces of different geometric forms, composed of white/black pieces, descend from the top of the field. During this descent, the player can move the pieces laterally and rotate them until they touch the bottom of the field or land on a piece that had been placed before it. The player can neither slow down the falling pieces nor stop them but can accelerate them. ②Functions of GoBang! ↓Field of play↓ There are three types of geometric forms, the clear field, the field of destruction, and the solid field. ♦Field of clear: For an appropriate field, the clear field is established. The player can play a game of Tetris in which the directions of the falling pieces are determined randomly. As Tetris is played, the geometric form, that is composed of white/black pieces, is changed. On the other hand, when in a game of Tetris, the direction of the falling pieces is fixed, the geometric form is not changed. ♦Field of destruction: When a falling piece touches a piece of the same color that is placed before it, it disappears. On the other hand, when an appropriate piece is placed before a falling piece that is composed of different colors, it does not disappear. ♦Field of solid: When all pieces are scattered and placed on the ground, all the pieces are disappeared. Play GoBang! The player can freely play GoBang, composed of a field of play and pieces. Three game modes: ♦Free mode (1000 points): Self-explain game mode in which the directions of the falling pieces are determined randomly, and the player has one life to defeat the game. ♦Game mode of color: 4 colors: all pieces of the same color are won, and the player who is placed in the top of the game mode has three lives. ♦Game mode of direction: All directions: different pieces of the same color are won, and the player who is placed in the top of the game mode has two lives. There is a mode in which the falling pieces disappear if placed on a piece of the same color, and depending on the match, there are two game modes; various types of the game modes. ♦Game mode of geometric form: Field
